

SEEN, HEARD
AND TOLD
BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:2

Almost every reader knew the picture last week was that of Grenada, out a few miles north on St. John Kraft of Chicago telephone. He would be here Wednesday to give us a lotta dope about the farm, it did not get here. The story of that farm will, of necessity, be postponed until we have the GOOD story at the property merits. Mr. 'Soo' 'ew', the manager was busy all night painting cotton, he reported. Too busy even to come, get his free picture.

The big question now is: whose farm headquarters appears in the GCW this week.

Many folks, covering many professions, contributed articles about juvenile delinquency. Boli down what said, one would see that the kids are not too much to blame, but the parents bear the heavy responsibility.

Latest, and happiest report about Jack Jackson is that he is sitting around in the halls of Grenada Hospital, greeting his many friends.

But not so happy are the reports of B. Payne, C. B. Robinson and Embry, all very seriously ill.

Mr. 'Vollie' Cottingham was mooning around in Grenada this week.

Just sent word by Col. Tim Ellard, who is going to Meridian to hear delat, that if Stevenson is going to run again, he had better employ one of the Worthams of this county to manage his campaign.

Before they started moving to get away quarters, the Trust Bank got word from Harry Gorden of Coffeeville to please pick up his little money before they forgot it.

There are many folks, some of whom have told me so, who are just like I am about the senatorial race: they like and admire Gov. Carroll Martin, but feel that his opponent, Jim Eastland, just has too much weight in Washington, to be swapped off for an 'unknown' (in Washington, that is) man like Mr. Gartin. Many of us think that he should seek promotion as gubernatorial candidate, in which capacity he has had a lotta experience.

Daves and Andrew have promised me that they will soon seek the opportunity to show 'Tommie Darras and Fess Bailey 'how to fish'. So Mr. Andrew and Davies are 'tops'.

Notes from White Lake, from personal observation: White Lake is a bit too high, and a bit too muddy. I found that out the hard way Sunday afternoon when Whyte Jr. and I rode and drove a Ford tractor to the lake, and also walked about half the distance both ways. Just too much trip for an older man!!

While we have a good many volunteer 'inspectors' looking after the building of the lawyers' office here on Growing Green, George Lambert and Lockett seem to have only one steady 'inspector' in the person of Burial Insurance Man Hemphill who sticks to that corner just about as close as did his predecessor, Mr. Wilson, now dead.

Jim Moss, rebuilding the Grenada Bank, has not yet had to call Pet Ray to clear off the 'inspectors', he may yet have to do so.

From what I hear, I see that Irvin Johnson, Jr., student at Ga. Tech., has developed just about the same spirit about Atlanta that most folks, including this writer, who went to school there 1906-1910, did: that, if you lived a good life on earth, you will go back to Atlanta when you die.

This intangible spirit, that no one can describe, smell, taste, see or hear, is called the 'spirit' of Atlanta, and, while escaping identification in exact terms, is very real.

It CAN be done. Look at Bryan Baker, Rice Pressgrove and Whyte Jr. and others whom I could mention, who seem to have completely stopped drinking liquor. Every reader can add another, of HIS acquaintances, to the list of those who have quit. (period)

Premiere Showing Of Wesley
Film at Local Church

The Grenada Methodist Church is one of 500 churches across the nation to be granted a premiere showing of the new color motion picture 'John Wesley', according to Rev. Felix Sutphin, the pastor. He stated that the church qualified for this special pre-release showing by making a contribution toward the cost of the feature-length film.

The film is produced by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, and picture was filmed in England for the American church by the J. Arthur Rank organization. The dramatic and influential life of the 18th Century evangelist will be brought to the screen for the first time in this film which runs one hour and 17 minutes. Rev. Sutphin announced.

Wesley was the founder of the evangelical movement which grew into a family of Methodist churches in the world, one of which is America's largest Protestant denomination. Leonard Sachs, outstanding English actor of stage and television, portrays the famous 'horseman of the Lord', as Wesley became to be known.

Date of the premiere showing at Grenada Methodist Church will be Sunday, May 30 at 7:30 p. m.

Saving Clause

Here's what the GCW wishes to say right here. Perhaps half of the sponsors of this issue paid for their signatures. Others were charged.

We checked very carefully NOT to charge anything that had been paid for. However, it is possible that we made a few mistakes in charge accounts and cash.

The GCW ain't gone anywhere. If we made a mistake, we are still here to correct mistakes.

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Allen Mitchell won the handsome Crosley Super Sheldor refrigerator given away by Horton and Horton.

only Negro physician, is a fine example of what I call conservative leaders of the colored people of this community. A native of Mississippi, he has been here long enough to know it is futile to try to make too rapid advances, too quick. In fact, the experiences of life tell us that one can not get too far, too fast, in anything, however worthy one's objective is.

For example, I did not get too far, too fast, in seeking to persuade the supervisors that the method of dividing 'car money' should be changed. It took about seven years to get them to do just a PART of what I advocated. By constant advocating what I knew to be RIGHT, I finally got a 'little piece up the road', even if what we got was a compromise.

A Tribute to Miss Lizzie Horn

'Drop a pebble in the water' just a splash, and it is gone; but there's half a-hundred ripples circling on and on and on . . . That portion of a beautiful poem by James W. Foley seems a fitting prelude to these lines in which we want to compliment one of Grenada's finest citizens, Miss Lizzie Horn, Elementary School superintendent and teacher extraordinary and distinguished character builder.

Miss Lizzie has given 50 years of faithful devotion to the youth of Grenada County, and has imprinted her lovely personality upon more impressionable young minds than any other person in the state of Mississippi. Miss Lizzie was at one time a student of the old Grenada College, and later graduated from Peabody College with top honors there, by starting her long and glorious career academically perfect. Her high qualifications, plus her tender understanding of young people and their problems assured her success in her chosen profession.

Miss Lizzie has received many honors from her Grenada County friends who have tried valiantly to show their appreciation for her full and useful life. A few years ago a group of her friends arranged with a professional artist in Memphis to come to Grenada and paint her portrait which hangs today in the Grenada High School building. Once she was awarded by the Grenada Lions Club a loving cup in recognition of her selection as Grenada's outstanding person of the year. Also her church installed and dedicated to her a drinking fountain as a token of appreciation for her untiring service to her church and Sunday school. But perhaps the one honor Miss Lizzie cherishes most is the little plaque placed on the wall of the Elementary school building which reads: This New Elementary School Building is dedicated to Miss Lizzie Horn and is here upon named for her. She loves that building and the ground it stands on, and she loves every boy and girl who ever entered its doors.

On behalf of her legion of friends and hundreds of former pupils scattered all over the world whose lives she has influenced for good and whose characters and philosophies she has helped to mold, we write these lines of appreciation, and we hope these words will live in her heart like music on the morning stars until such time as she may be more appropriately rewarded for a beautiful life, spent in service to others.

'Drop a pebble in the water; in a minute you forget.

But there's little waves a-flowing, and there's ripples circling yet.

And these little waves a-flowing to a great big wave have grown.

You've disturbed a mighty river, just by dropping in a little stone.

All good wishes to you Miss Lizzie, as you approach your retirement, and as you look toward the sun set days of your magnificent life may you treat yourself with a conscious thought that parts and pieces of your tender heart which you have so freely given to others, will live on and on and on. —Fed Robinson.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS!!

LOCAL WRITERS DISCUSS THIS NATIONAL PROBLEM

D. D. Rhoades Says . . .

Many theories and facts have been presented concerning the causes and cures of delinquency. Some have been practical and helpful, others have just resulted in trying to treat the disease from the surface rather than seeking the cause and removing the source of infection. The delinquency problem needs the serious attention of every sensible citizen. The constant prayer of every father and mother as well as the efforts of the Church, the school and the community organizations which seek to remove the evil and rehabilitate the youth that have fallen by the wayside.

There are many conditions that bring about delinquency; but let's consider some of the basic causes.

No. 1 - A major cause of delinquency is a break down of home life and spiritual training. Here it is more parental or adult delinquency than it is the fault of youth.

No. 2 - Another major factor contributing to delinquency is the pattern of living in our generation. We are majoring on the material side of life. We emphasize things material; money, pleasure, satisfaction of the physical appetites, not all we can while the getting is good. Selfishness is the rule rather than service.

The speed-up of our life pattern - living fast and loose. How can the qualities of character and noble life purposes are largely forgotten in our life pattern-war, and the threat of war takes away the hopes of our youth and in a world of confusion, youth has no dependable security.

The growing curse of the use of alcohol in many sections of our country is a very real threat. The influence of salacious literature, a large percentage of movies, and much that comes into the home on radio and television give the wrong picture and pattern for youth.

The material philosophy of our times promotes greed and inflates the ego, inflames the passions, leaves one wanting to count on the sins and sins practices that ready hands to take them up. Schools, churches, community organizations, by the neglect of their missions promote much delinquency. Where they measure up to their responsibility they prevent delinquency and convert our youth for worthy citizenship.

The pattern of our modern day living presents social temptations for young people. Youth today make us stronger and better, than those of preceding generations. The finest youth people in the world's history are living in our day. The Church, the school and community organizations need the constant support of every man and woman in Baptist Minister Says . . .

You hear considerable talk about the problem of juvenile delinquency in many circles, and every time I hear such a discussion a large question mark arises in my mind - is the problem really juvenile?

I am thrown with all sorts of questions every day. Most of the serious problems of the community and family come to some minister either directly or indirectly. These observations come from their experience.

The more of us look down on our youth, the more they look up on us. The blame for their delinquency is not that they are bad, but that we are. The blame is partially shared, because so much of the influence is in the home, the school, the church, the community.

Multi-hate and hate into and out of our youth needs some definite responsibility in our community. That they might help create conditions that will prevent delinquency, so much is being done to the youth. We need an ambassador at the door of the child's life. We need a bridge between the adult and the child. We need a force of the life to prevent them from going over the edge.

School Superintendent Says . . .

Delinquency is a national problem. It is a problem that has been with us for many years. It is a problem that has been with us for many years. It is a problem that has been with us for many years.

church, in business, and at play is exerted by adults who tear down rather than build up.

We shudder to hear the language of some youngsters, but when we hear their parents, read the profanity, slang, and lewdness of the literature they read, hear the same programs they hear—then we can understand why.

Our hearts hurt when we see the drinking habits of many of our youth—yet we understand when we see the example of their elders, read the ads in their homes, and hear the callous opinions of some of their leaders.

The immorality and lawlessness of many young people today is appalling. Can they be blamed when parents ignore their need for counsel? When we would want to run a teacher out of town for telling the truth? When we lie to them about the real facts of life? When we admonish them to 'obey the law' yet brag about 'beating someone' on a business deal or not getting caught while hitting 70 miles per hour on the highway.

As percent of the problems which I have to face with our juveniles stem from the delinquency of their elders. Who are the delinquents?

influence the younger ones.

Virtue, temperance, emotional control and discipline must be practiced by the adult generation before the preaching to the younger generation will be effective. Entirely too many adults give lip service to the idea that they owe service to the younger generation without actually accepting the responsibility. In most communities many fine agencies such as: Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, Young Christian Association, etc. are more or less ineffective because of a lack of adult leadership. Many people will contribute money to these agencies, but all too few are willing to contribute personal service. Money contributed may be helpful, but cannot build into the character of boys and girls those attributes of behavior which may be developed by adult leadership. Sometimes it seems that the present adult generation has the same lack of perception against which the prophet Jeremiah railed in the book of Lamentations when he said, 'Even the sea monsters draw out the beast, they give suck to their young ones; the daughter of my people is become cruel like the ostriches of the wilderness.' Thus the prophet reproached his people for showing less interest in their children than was shown by the monsters of the sea for their offspring — for sticking their heads in the sand like ostriches of the wilderness trying to hide from the knowledge that they are not well with their families and (Con't to back page)

The art of transmutation

Spurred by dreams of great wealth and power, alchemists of long ago frantically searched for a method of making gold in the laboratory. Fantastic chemical mixtures and processes were tried—all to no avail. Only in recent years have the dreams of the alchemist materialized. By subjecting platinum to neutron bombardment, gold can be produced in the laboratory. Because of the low yield and high expense involved, however, it is unlikely that gold produced in an atomic pile will ever replace that obtained in the conventional way. We are unable to make gold in our prescription department, but the medicines carried here are more powerful than all the gold in the world. We are prepared to help you whenever the need arises.

Telephone People Help Mississippi in Many Ways

YOUR TELEPHONE company has one of the State's largest industrial payrolls and is one of its largest taxpayers — thereby contributing directly or indirectly to the prosperity of most everyone in Mississippi. Every year this becomes more important as we go on expanding the system to meet the continuing demands for good telephone service.

With the high cost of materials, supplies, labor and everything it takes to expand and improve telephone service, our construction program calls for more and more money from investors. To get them to supply it, we must earn a fair profit on money invested in telephone property.

GOOD WILL

promotes industrial development

The growth of all types of industry in Mississippi over the past decade has brought about a new era of better life for everyone who lives here.

Exploration for and development of Mississippi oil resources by the oil industry has played a significant role in this phenomenal expansion of the state's economy. GULF, having discovered eleven fields and having expanded its production to one-fifth of the Mississippi crude oil output, is proud to have had a part in the constructive activities of this vital industry.

Like most other industries operating in Mississippi, the oil industry is relatively new here. The economic progress made by Mississippi through industrial development has only just begun.

Encouraged by the good will of Mississippi's citizens, the oil industry and other important industries will continue to invest private capital in Mississippi operations. GULF alone already has a $120,000,000 stake in Mississippi's future.

The good will that brings more job-creating, tax-paying private capital to Mississippi — and keeps it here — is indeed a "good sign for Mississippi."

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT IN MISSISSIPPI IS CREATING NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES

in the field of Journalism

Industrial development is not only benefiting the many thousands of Mississippians who are employed in the new plants locating in our state, but it is also creating many job opportunities in fields not directly associated with industry.

For example, in the field of journalism, a new industry in a community invariably brings with it new horizons for newspapers, magazines, and other publications in the area. Additional payrolls mean greater circulation, and increased retail trade activity calls for more advertising. All of this creates new occupational opportunities for the young people of Mississippi now training in the various phases of journalism.

Helping to improve the state's economy by bringing new industries to Mississippi is one of the primary objectives of Mississippi Power & Light Company's fully-staffed Agricultural and Industrial Development Department. This work is carried out in close cooperation with state and local agencies, groups, and citizens toward the common goal of "Helping Build Mississippi."

MISSISSIPPI POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

Helping Build Mississippi For Over A Quarter-Century

LINOTYPERS

Every publication requires the services of linotypers, pressmen, proof readers and other skilled and talented workers. New opportunities in these fields have been opened up with the expansion of publications brought about by industrial development.

REPORTERS

Playing an integral part in producing a publication are such staff members as reporters, copy writers, and stenographers. Due to the increased industrial development in Mississippi, many of our young men and women are finding openings in these fields of endeavor.

LAYOUT ARTISTS

The advertising departments of our newspapers and magazines now offer many more job opportunities for layout artists, salesmen and others in this line of work.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH A. FOREMAN
Scriptures: II Kings 4:37; 6:8-23.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 123.
Power Unseen
Lesson for May 30, 1954

WHY does a President of the United States go to church? He may have many good reasons which are not the principal one. He may do it because it has been a tradition since the time of George Washington. He may go because he likes the minister; or because he feels he should set a good example; or because he knows that churches help make good citizens and he wants to encourage churches just as he encourages schools, boy scout troops and the Red Cross. But a much better reason is that we feel the need of strength.

Foxhole Religion

A man who has been more or less independent all his life, not feeling any special need of God, will wake up to his need of something more than he has, when he finally gets into some trouble, some situation where he can't figure out the answers and where he knows he is not equal to the demands the circumstances make on him. We have seen in our time a President who has hardly taken office before he is baptized and joins a Christian church. Is this a sudden conversion? Probably not. Brought up in a devout Christian home, this man has always been aware of religion, he never denied God. But now, with a burden of responsibility and leadership which he never had before, he becomes not merely aware but acutely aware that by himself, even with all the human help he can get, by himself he is not enough. It has been said that there are no atheists in foxholes; and fox-hole religion has been low-rated as the religion of the scared-to-death. Nevertheless many a man whose religion began in a fox-hole did not end there.

A Dark Doorway to God

The Bible stories for this week describe several of the darker doorways to God. This is not quite the right way to put it, for God is not like a closed room. Rather, we are in closed rooms of our own, and the doors of our cells open out to the ever-present sunshine of God. Some of the doorways of life are somber enough, yet it is through some of the most forbidding of these that men and women have come through to a living faith in the true God. For example, the story of the woman of Shunem who had everything she wanted except a child. It was in her longing for a child of her own that her faith came to a burning-point. Then when the child was born and grew into boyhood and lay at the gate of death, again her faith blazed up. She did not usually seek the prophet Elisha except on stated days (she is not alone in this), but this time she went on the day of her distress. It was so with the king of Israel. His eyes were adjusted to the ordinary lights of this world; but on one memorable occasion God let him see the army of light surrounding his prophet.

Resources of the Spirit

Why is it that some people can endure what crushes others? To say it is faith that upholds the weak, is only part of the truth. The hymn says, "How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord, is laid for your faith in His excellent Word!" The foundation is not faith; faith rests on the foundation, namely God and his promises. Faith alone is a poor support. It is God who is the true upholder of the weak. How shall the unseeing have their eyes opened? How shall those who never feel the nearness of God come to know him as ever present, our hope and our help? It is today as it was in the far-off days of Elisha; those who know God must make him known to others. If it had not been for Elisha, comfort and faith might never have come to the woman of Shunem. If it had not been for Elisha's prayer, the eyes of the young frightened king might never have been opened and he would have collapsed in panic. Faith, if you have it, is not something to be kept to yourself. It is something to share. Faith, if you do not have it, is something you may be helped to acquire, all the better, if you make friends with one who has faith.

mentary school age and move on is laxity on our part may well account for the fact that 46 percent of e draftees from Mississippi fail the mple intelligence test while 97 per-nt are in A-1 physical shape. In any states there are laws which ree all children of school age to to school or else their parents ust be able to explain why. I believe that Mississippi has such a law it haven't been enforced to the eatest extent.

Our major social institutions the mes, the church, and the school ve not become well enough inte-ated to offer the type of citizen lucation that would be effective in iving many of our social problems.
Now that we have the problem be-re us, the following suggestions are ferred:

1. Local, state and federal agencies ould cooperate in getting rid of um areas, thereby furnishing a ore, wholesome living environment
r the would-be delinquent.
2. The Chamber of Commerce and ther organizations should assert eir influence so that the econo-ic level of all of its citizens are aised.

3. Individual families should not spect to continue to throw their responsibilities on the shoulders of soiety. Therefore, much more thought ould be given before marriage or efore bringing children into this world. Some states have already enacted laws to curb hasty marriages, and Mississippi has recently passed a law to curb desertion.

4. The citizens should become more vigilant and be concerned whenever they see our youth on the street or n cafes or clubs when they should be in school. The citizens of Jackson, Miss, have pledged themselves to get every boy and girl of school age in school next year or require their parents suffer the consequence. We have had several complaints coming to our Chamber of Commerce about such situations and we have the promised cooperation of the Grenada County Chamber of Commerce and the promise of the City Council.

5. Grenada has or is in the process of having the physical properties to offer organized recreation to all of its citizens - a status that could make it unchallenged anywhere in the South and unparalleled in any region for a town its size. We have two bunaries partially or wholly supported from public funds, which could easily be transferred to child care centers, and while their parents work their children could be left there for a small fee. A feeble effort in this direction was started last year but because of petty jealousy and the lack of foresight, failed. We have more than two hundred acres on beautiful Grenada Lake which will offer recreation for the entire family, including swimming when the water is high or low, boating, soft ball, tennis, horse shoe and many other games - a place for conventions boxing, wrestling or whatever you desire.

We further have men and women with more than high school and college education, some who have had courses in child care, counseling, etc.
They only need to be gainfully employed.
